

Workshops for the IDIVOSH International Forum

June 12, 2023 in room 904 (9th floor) of the IRSST (505 Boul. de Maisonneuve West, Montréal, QC H3A 3C2)

IDIVOSH – Workshop schedule
9h to 12h	Workshop for students and young researchers: Theoretical and systemic model on intercultural encounter	The objective of this workshop is to present a theoretical and systemic model of the intercultural encounter, in order to better understand the various OHS situations of vulnerability among workers from immigrant and ethnocultural groups. During this workshop, participants will work together to identify and analyse certain intercultural situations from different workplaces.
12h to 13h30	Lunch break (lunch not included)
13h30 to 16h30	Workshop on the development of the Montreal Declaration	The main objective of this workshop is to develop a declaration that presents the multiple issues related to the working conditions of several groups of vulnerable workers (e.g. (im)migrant workers, temporary foreign workers, those working for rental agencies, etc.) to risks and occupational hazards and the deterioration of their quality of life. Scientists, students, workers and OHS experts who have studied these issues are invited to participate in the discussions and co-construct with us during this workshop.
